PRICE: TWO CENTS

MOC WEEKEND FEATURES WOODSMAN'S COMPETITION

More than seventy-five men filled with the primal lust for physical combat will seek supremacy in the Woodsman's Weekend sponsored by the McGill Outing Club this Saturday at 1 pm at the Upper Field.

The M.O.C. has invited teams of six members each from Macdonald College, Laval University, Sir George Williams, and the McGill faculties of Medicine, Engineering, and Arts and Science to join in the annual muscle clambake. Both Dartmouth College and Middlebury College are sending teams up from the states for the competition.

Woodsman's Skills

The contest will test woodsman's skills in eight fields: tree felling, chopping, splitting, buck-sawing, cross-cut sawing, log rolling, pulp throwing, and water boiling. All the competitions will be extreme tests of endurance as well as precision and McGill will send six warriors into the fray in the persons of Ed Blanshoy, Mike Kingsmill, Cliff BeBaudoin, Don Pudisfin, Dick Lighthall, and Jack Hall, all experienced campaigners in this form of endeavour.

The female touch will also be present throughout the weekend as the young ladies of the M.O.C. will wield the stop-watches for all the events.

To wind up Saturday's activities, a square dance will be held in the Union at 8.30 pm.

Canoeing

Sunday will see the outdoorsmen making the trek out to the waterfront, to the Lachine Racing and Canoe Club for a 10 am start. Giant canoe competitions and water sports will then climax the weekend.

Revue

The Red and White Revue and dancing exhibitions attracted most of the students. The rest gathered at the different booths that were situated throughout the Union.

The Red and White Revue presented several musical numbers from last year's show, including the song, "That's What Makes Paris Paree," ad-libbed by Peter Hale during a crisis in the proceedings.

MOC

Attention was focused on a

Aggies Won

Last year's overall winner was Masdonald, whose Aggies won four of the first places and made a generally fine showing throughout. The Yanks from Middlebury were runners-up. But last year's victors had better be at their best, intimate the M.O.C.'ers, for the rigorous summer has made them all rather tough and ornery.

Animal Talk

Ed Blanshoy, general publicity man, bouncer, and all-around tough has this to say about the forthcoming primal contests:

"So come! Come in the afternoon to watch the transition from college man to cave man. Come in the evening to make the transition yourself. Stake a claim in this moment of universal and interstellar madness. Gr rrrr oowwl!"

THOMSON TO LECTURE

Virgil Thomson, composer and music critic, will give the first address of the 1954-55 Music Lecture Series on October 18 in Moyse Hall at 8.30 pm. His topic will be "Notes and Music."

Like last years series, the 1954-55 addresses will consist of three lectures. The second and third will be given on January 31 and February 3 by Aaron Copland and Josef Szigeti respectively. Tickets will not be required, as the lectures will be open to both students and members of the public.

Mr. Thomson, after graduating from Harvard University in 1922 as A.B. continued his studies in Paris under Nadia Boulanger. He began his work as choir master and organist at King's Chapel, Boston. Thereafter living in Paris for ten years. He is now a music critic on the New York Herald Tribune. Mr. Thomson, who is also an author, has written operas and symphonies, as well as the scores for several films. He has written on music for Vanity Fair, Boston Transcript and modern music.

DEBATE MEET MONDAY

There will be a Novice Debating Trial for all interested students in the Union clubroom, from 3 to 6 pm, on Monday, October 18.

Because this is the only opportunity for the Debating Union to meet those students interested in debating, everyone who hopes to do any debating at the University is urged to attend. All contestants are requested to prepare either an affirmative or a negative argument, not more than five minutes in length, on one of the following subjects:

Resolved that the Attlee tour to communist countries was a mistake.

Resolved that ignorance is bliss.

In view of the fact that a large number of novice debaters are expected to attend, all are asked to report to the Union clubroom as soon after 3 pm as possible.

The Debating Union is considering a series of debating trips this year, and will be watching the trials for prospective debaters. There will be tours to New York, Toronto, Norfolk Penitentiary, Princeton University, and many other places. The first of these trips will be to Burlington, Vermont and most of the twelve-man team to go there will be chosen from the contestants at the Novice Trial.

MOVIE, FOOTBALL OFFERED AT MAC

A senior football game, conducted tour of the campus, a chicken barbecue supper, a singsong, movie and a dance are the activities planned for the annual McGill at Macdonald Day tomorrow.

Transportation to the St. Anne de Bellevue campus will be provided in buses, which will leave McGill at 12 and at 12.30 pm. They will start back for the city at midnight.

Charge for the trip will be $1.25 for students who provide their own transportation, $2 for those who go by the buses provided. Tickets may be purchased from 12 am to 2 pm today and from 10 to 12 pm tomorrow in the Union.

The football game will be a senior bout between Macdonald and Bishops University. It will begin at 2 pm. After the game tours of the campus will be conducted by the Gold Key, Macdonald's Honour Society.

A singsong, followed by the movie "Man with a Million", starring Gregory Peck, are planned for the evening. After the movie there will be a stag or drag dance, square and social dancing, to the music of the Avalon Quartet.

For the freshmen, Macdonald is McGill's other campus, being the seat of the school of agriculture, household science and the teacher training school. Also contains the gas dynamics lab of mechanical engineering department. The college is located at Ste. Anne de Bellevue on the western tip of the island about twenty miles from Montreal.

To date, 79 tickets have been sold for the Picnic. This is a substantial increase over last year, when only 45 tickets had been sold as of Friday night. However, about 115 students made the trip to Macdonald last year anyway, the remaining 130 buying tickets on Saturday morning.

As for the football game on Saturday afternoon, to quote Les Jonas, Chairman of the Freshman Reception Committee:

"Macdonald should cream them."

CHANGE OF COURSE

Students wishing to change a course for which they are registered must do so by completing the appropriate "Change of Course" forms available in the assistant dean's office, room 140 Arts Building. These forms (three) must be completed and turned in by the student who should call back within two days to receive his signed copy if the change is approved. Merely turning in the forms does not constitute authority for the change and it is the student's responsibility to ascertain that the change has been approved. The deadline date for changing courses is 12 o'clock noon, Saturday, October 16th and no requests whatsoever, will be considered after this date.

Activities Night Jams Union

Over 500 people jammed their way into the McGill Union last night for the annual Activities Night.

member of the McGill Outing Club, who twice without mishap climbed the side of the Union, which was used in place of a mountain. Movies of club activities were also shown by the MOC.

Students crowded the ballroom to see the exhibition given by the International Dance Studios in preparation for a ballroom dancing course to be given at McGill this year.

Most clubs signed about 20 to 30 new members.

Many Clubs

Booths were set up last night by the Psychology Club, the Players Club, the McGill Pistol and Rifle Club, the Pre-Medical Society, the Geology Club, the Music Club, the Current Affairs Club, the Literature Society, the Science Fiction Club, the Choral Society, the Debating Union, the Camera Club, the Indian Society, the Cosmopolitan Club.

The Ukrainian Club, Ded Deutsche Club, the French Society, the African Students' Association, the Spanish Club, the Newman Club, the McGill Radio Workshop, the Amateur Radio Club, the Gliding Club, the Arts and Crafts Club, the Lutheran Students' Association, the Canterbury Club, NFC-US, Hillel, Liberal Club, the CCF Club, the Polish Club, completed the list.

Editorial

NFCUS SEASON AGAIN

NFCUS season opens Monday.

It's not as severe as hay-fever season, nor as crucial as World Series season, but still it has its own peculiar symptoms, and its arrival never passes unnoticed.

It affects student editors and statesmen, who work themselves up to fever heat on Crucial Student Problems. It particularly affects delegates to NFCUS, who come to the conference each year resolved to cure NFCUS, Canadian students, and the Cold War. The only people it does not seem to affect are Canadian students — in fact those of you who got past the first five letters of this editorial are probably in a minority.

The majority of students have already succumbed to that dread disease — "studentapathy" — about which any student editor worth his salt can editorialize at the drop of a hat. But then, as one student once remarked about NFCUS, there is so much to be apathetic about.

Certainly the past record of the National Federation of Canadian University Students is anything but impressive. They have managed to get really worked up about one issue per year, on none of which a conclusive decision was made and none of which survived the year between conferences. NFCUS season is a short one.

About the only things that NFCUS has been able to agree upon are Student Bills of Rights and Responsibilities, which no one wants, and agitation for benefits to students, which are rarely obtained. On questions of national or international scope agreement has seldom been achieved.

The main difficulty with NFCUS is that it has failed to gain student interest and support. When the NFCUS executive speak to government officials or to foreign student unions, they represent Canadian students in only the most technical sense, for Canadian students are completely indifferent towards NFCUS, if indeed, they are aware of it at all.

What NFCUS needs to do if it is to survive, is to capture the imagination and support of the Canadian students. It must find something that the vast majority of Canadian students want. Then it must see that they get it.

We hope that it will be done this year, for there may never be another chance. If, as in the past, NFCUS accomplishes nothing of importance, it will be completely discredited in the eyes of many students, including those of McGill.

Maybe NFCUS season begins earlier than we thought.

Let's To The Editor

Spirit and the Queen's Game

Dear Sir,

I would like to congratulate you and your paper on the fine job you have been doing on Sports at the beginning of this new session. Firstly, I would like to commend your Sports Editor, Mr. Morrie Shohet, for the excellent column that he wrote following our defeat by Queen's University.

I would also like to commend the student body who were at the game on that dull, dreary Saturday. I have never seen a finer exhibition of continued support, enthusiasm and spirit right through to the final whistle, even in the face of the one-sided defeat. This will do more for McGill and her teams, and the McGill traditional spirit than any other single thing that could be done.

I might just say here that it was a shame that in the same paper that carried such an excellent column as the one I have mentioned by your Sports Editor, there appeared in column "From the Pewter Mug." I feel sure that the gentleman who wrote this column spent too much time with the pewter mug before writing it. I certainly heartily endorse the letter to the Editor following this up by Trevor Bishop.

I believe that the following short message reflects the feeling of not only Trevor Bishop, but of the large majority of the student body here at McGill.

A MAN'S MAN

By Theodore Roosevelt

In the battle of life, it is not the critic who counts; not the man who points out how the strong man stumbled, or where the doer of a deed could have done better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena; whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood; who strives valiantly; who errs and comes short again and again, because there is no effort and shortcoming; who does actually strive to do the deeds; who knows the great enthusiasms, the great devotions, spends himself in a worthy cause; who at the best knows in the end the triumph of high achievement; and who at the worst, if he fails, at least fails while daring greatly, so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who have tasted neither victory nor defeat."

Thank you very very much. May you continue the fine job that you are doing with the McGill Daily this year.

Department of Athletics

Missing Headline

Dear Sir:

Re: the football team. The creed of journalism this side of the U.S.-S.R. is factual reporting. But was there a big black headline Tuesday morning saying "McGILL SENIORS STINK"?

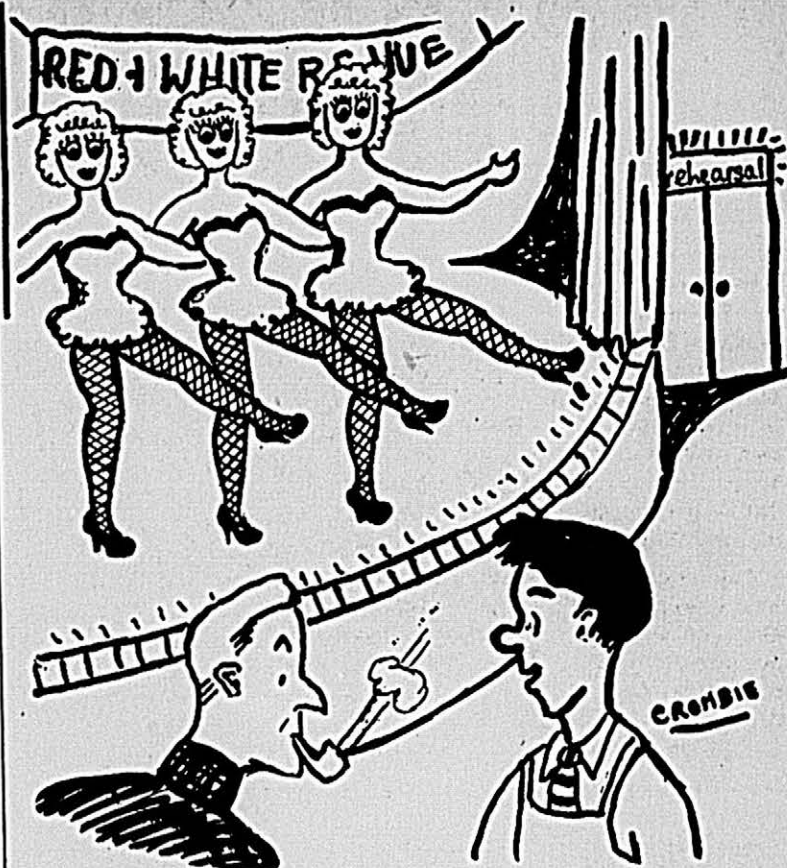

I should say not. The 46-11 loss was simply "unlucky."

Nuts!

The only unlucky thing is that the team is entered in the senior intercollegiate conference.

Don't get me wrong. I'm not blaming anyone connected with the team; they're doing their best. But everybody at McGill knows the team stinks; why not admit it?

(M.D. 4 — Name Withheld on request)

Now That's the sort of talent we need for the football team!

FROM THE PEWTER MUG

By J. F. MacLeod

It's about time someone stood up for drinking.

We don't mean alcoholism, intoxication, or common drunkenness — just drinking. Most of us indulge to some extent; most of us see nothing sinful or immoral in moderate drinking. Why, then, do we allow ourselves to be cowed into silence by the Women's Christian Temperance Union, the Anti-Saloon League, and other all too vocal members of the puritanical minority.

Intemperate

These zealots are not for temperance. They are, indeed, far from temperate in their attacks upon 'the demon RUM'. They operate under the assumption that alcohol is intrinsically evil, that it is responsible for most of the world's ills, and that to indulge in it is a deadly sin.

These are assumptions shared by few people in this or any country. Their proponents, however, are surprisingly influential.

"Morality"

The Alice-in-Wonderland labyrinths of Canada's liquor laws are perhaps their masterpiece. These are drafted by legislators who, intimidated by cohorts of "morality", feel compelled to enact principles in which they do not believe. Because the W.C.T.U. et al have successfully masqueraded under the banners of religion and morality, few dare oppose them publicly.

Compromise

The result is a curious compromise. Liquor is tolerated in Canada, but at the same time its use has been made as inconvenient, unpleasant and difficult as possible. And while the toleration of liquor must be anathema to the true prohibitionists, they defend the present system against liberalizing influences on grounds of morality.

Sin?

How even the W.C.T.U. can argue that drinking before midnight or with meals is less sinful than drinking after twelve or without food is hard to imagine. Why it is acceptable to have 10 liquor stores or cocktail lounges in a city, yet immoral to allow 15, is also puzzling.

Irreconcilable

Surely the sane majority are mature enough to stop being intimidated by this nonsense and draft liquor laws that are an accurate reflection of their beliefs. The present legislation is but an attempt to compromise with the irreconcilable.

LONDON'S FESTIVAL BALLET

Reviewed by Michael Laine

La Esmeralda, performed by London's Festival Ballet at the Forum last night, is a strikingly modern piece based on Victor Hugo's novel "Notre-Dame de Paris."

The ballet is a little strange and a little jerky; particularly in its transition of the sombre mood of the procession to the scaffold to the light gaiety of the finale.

The company was a treat to watch and handled a difficult modern style well. The chorus, shone particularly as the thieves where they had an air of diabolically gay villainy.

There was ample opportunity for the individual stars to exhibit their technical talents. Here perhaps, there was some disappointment.

Tamara Toumanova, the guest artist, began rather weekly. However her act one pas de deux with Nikolai Polajenko was the high light of the performance. It was sensual and exciting, literally making the blood pound. Elsewhere in the performance she seemed to lag. At times she brought the audience to a high pitch of emotion but was unable to sustain the mood. John Gilpin as Gringoire, and Polajenko as Phoebus shared the honours as male leads. Both turned in creditable performances and there was little to choose between the two.

Anton Dolin, artistic director of the troupe, danced the short part of Frolo with much feeling; whereas Keith Beckett as Quasimodo, the

Track Men Shine REDMEN RAID MUSTANGS SATURDAY

By Marv Goldsmith

The eighty-second annual McGill Track and Field Championships took place yesterday afternoon under what were probably the worst conditions in all of those eighty-two years.

Lionel Whitman, Pete Reid, and R. Gill took individual honours for the afternoon as each copped two events. The best time of the day was turned in by Reid who ran the 440 yd. event in 52.6 seconds over a track which was covered with two inches of water in some places. Reid also won the 880 while Gill won by handy margins in the one and three mile events.

The day's outstanding performance was turned in by Lionel Whitman who took the shot put and discus. In the shot put Whitman broke his McGill record with a heave of 48 ft. 10 1/4 in.

Coach Joe Anderson has called a meeting for 5 o'clock today in the gym for all those who competed in the championships yesterday. There will also be a meeting at one o'clock for those entered in the javelin and pole vault as these events will be run off if the weather permits.

Here are the results of yesterday's meet— 100 yd., 1. Shannon, 2. G. Bonder, Time 10.7. 220 yd., 1. G. Bonder, 2. M. Ashworth (tie) Time: 24.6. 440 yd. 1. P. Reid, 2. D. Moule, Time: 52.6. 880 yd. 1. P. Reid, 2. D. Moule, Time: 2:06.6. Mile, R. Gill, Time: 4:50.7. 3 miles, 1. R. Gill, 2. D. Constantine, Time: 16:52.2. High hurdles, 1. A. Raymond, 2. R. Land. Time: 18.5. High jump, 1. R. Blere, 2. G. Sutherland, 5 ft. 5 1/2 in. Broad jump, 1. J. Anderson, 2. H. Repole, 18 ft. 11 1/2 in. Discus, 1. L. Whitman, 128 ft. 3 1/2 in. Shot put, 1. L. Whitman, 48 ft. 1 1/4 in.

With the club practically at full strength, Coach Larry Sullivan leads his McGill Redmen to London to meet the big threat of the Intercollegiate Football League, Western Mustangs.

The Redmen, lacking only Ted Toporowski, will go into the J. W. Little Memorial Stadium as definite underdogs tomorrow against the Powerful Mustangs, defending champions and winner of seven titles in the past nine years.

Boasting such names as Gino Fracas, Don Getty, Bill Fowler and Murray Henderson, Western will be out to avenge last year's 16-13 loss at the hands of the Redmen, McGill's best showing. Peerless coach Johnny Metras has his new-fangled Diamond-T formation which struck fear into the hearts of the Varsity Blues last week, and also Neil Desborough, who kicks converts with his shin-bone, to make the Redmen forget that they are the only team to beat the Mustangs in their home court for ages.

The Redmen, however, have a couple of aces up their sleeve. Ken Wright, whose presence was sorely missed last week in the Queen's game, will be back in the lineup to do the punting for the McGill cause. Lionel Quinn and Joe Cronin will also be back to bolster the Red team.

The Red and White backfield will be led by Ed Parente at quarterback, with Bob Hutchison, Bob Perry, Herb English, Rickie Adrian, Lionel Quinn, Emil Bosacki, Hal Biewald and Boyan Giles. Another ace up the McGill sleeve will be their long hours of practice perfecting their pass-defence against the potent Mustang attack.

In addition to the advantage that the three other senior clubs have over the Redmen what with scholarships, players-aid funds, etc., the McGill Athletic Department last night announced that John Szczeglik will not be able to don the Red and White colours this year because he is "ineligible". The big question is, "who will be next?"

SOCCER

The McGill Senior Soccer team displayed fair form while winning a decisive 5-1 victory over the "Stelco Junior" team. The muddiness of the field prevented our team from putting on their best performance but not from showing all their latent talent which is becoming more apparent with each game they play.

The first score of the game went to the "Juniors" as they took advantage of penalty. The Redmen's Hugo Rios then replied on a delightful passing play that out-classed "Stelco". After this, the game see-sawed with "Stelco" slightly on top until the half whistle blew.

In the second half, the "Seniors" found themselves and took control of the game with true McGillian form. This made Coach Wilkinson feel that the team may bring back the intercollegiate trophy this year.

Indians Set To Scalp Ottawa Intermediates

Not worried about their 14-5 exhibition loss to Queens last Monday, the McGill Indians are looking forward to their first league tilt this Friday night . . . The Indians will be host to the Ottawa U boys at the Molson oval . . . Rocky Robillard, freshman coach of the Indians, plans to dress twenty-six men for the game . . . Last year, the Indians defeated the Ottawa eleven 11-6 in the final game of the year to take the Ottawa St. Lawrence Championship . . . Matt Anthony is the brains behind the Ottawa outfit . . . Since so many boys tried out for the Indians this year, Rocky has scheduled an exhibition game against the Macdonald College Aggies for next Wednesday . . .

RUGGER

McGill lost last night by 5-3 to the Montreal Barbarians, in a match which was fast, furious and close. The team, headed by John Jackson, was Muzuma, Gresham (scored), McMillan, Bible, Cuthbertson, Jackson, Budd, Cowan, Nichol, Gordon, James, Sullivan, Cookson, Landsdowne, and Allison. There will be a return match against Westmount at Westhill tomorrow.

WOMEN'S ARCHERY

You are all welcome to participate in the Silver Arrow Tournament which is slated to get under way at Molson Stadium on October 18. The results of this Columbia Round will determine the intercollegiate archery team.

The intercollegiate aggregation will journey to McMaster this year for the tournament. Practices are held every day from 10.30 am to 3.30 pm. For further information consult the R.V.C. notice board.
